

WEBCentric and Voxxed Days Belgrade 2017

Voxxed Days is one of the most important programming conferences in Europe. It is organised in over 10 European cities (Athens, Oslo, Istanbul, Vienna, Zurich, etc.), and in Belgrade, as well. The Voxxed Days is organized by the creators of Devoxx, the organization which is the host of the annual European conferences for Java programming language. Devoxx is today located in 5 cities – Antwerpen, London, Paris, Krakow and Casablanca. This event, that has specified theme, is set up and shaped by the local IT communities which tend to advance their environment.

Not only that Serbian IT community is technologically up to date, but it is also very creative. The most successful and most recent achievements are the purpose of this meeting. We were part of it, which took place in Belexpo center, location that has about 2500 m2, with around 1000 rabbits, crabs and Tassies. The main organizer Heapspace put together tokens for each category of participants, therefore the organizers and sponsors were bunnies, the visitors were crabs and speakers were Tassies – devils. ☺

WEBCentric helped Heapspace as one of the sponsors in order to achieve the main goal - to expand and improve the local IT community. Organizers, speakers and visitors - all together enjoyed learning new things, exchanging experiences with colleagues from IT industry, and meeting new friends from all over the world. Visitors were able to meet our employees and get to know what we do. A lot of them congratulated us for the success of our software Price2Spy. We tried to share our unique experience with as many people as we could, so that others can follow our example. Besides that, we were eagerly listening what was said on the lectures and got new useful ideas which can be implemented in the future.
